COUNTY COURT HOUSE NEW YORK, May 26.—Mayor James J. Walker, on the witness stand today before the Hofstadter legislative committee, threw the hearing room into a turmoil when he charged that Samuel Seabury was conducting "an examination before trial" which was preliminary to asking the Governor to remove him as Mayor of New York.

"Nobody is fooled by this examination," Walker shouted. "I thought this was an inquiry but it looks as if somebody wants my life. Nobody doubts this is an examination before trial—a preliminary to asking the governor to remove me from office."

The smartly attired mayor of the largest city in the country was aroused. He glared at Seabury as he voiced the charge.

Applause swept the crowded court room.

Seabury's lips curled and he retorted:

"That's a stump speech."

Welfare Leaders In Conference At Harrisburg Today

Governor Pinchot Will Learn True Conditions Of State In Discussions Today

PLANS LAID FOR SPECIAL SESSION

General Edward Martin Indicates Harmony Will Prevail For Needed Relief

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 26—With welfare leaders of the state meeting here today with Gov. Gifford Pinchot and a conference of the executive and Republican organization leaders scheduled tentatively for next week, Pennsylvania's capitol viewed a second extra legislative session as a mere matter of a few weeks.

Out of today's gathering was to come a composite picture, in dollar signs, of the need for relief. And next week's gathering was expected to yield an agreement that would bring legislators together in July for a session that would continue long enough only to satisfy the enactment of relief legislation.

Storms of protest aroused by the attorney's general's decision to classify appropriations to state-aided institutions as non-preferred obligations with a consequent reduction of more than 24 per cent in these allocations, stirred the capitol and left the unmistakable impression that demands for action will not be satisfied until the assembly has convened and adopted remedial measures.

Harmony Move

Sound indications that opposing political factions will join in a harmony move to meet these demands came with Gen. Edward Martin's comment upon the governor's state-

Coroner Holds Brief Inquest In Bank Killing

Only Two Witnesses Are Summoned To Establish Facts In Campbell's Death

KILLING LAID TO UNKNOWN ASSAILANT

Bank Officer And Doctor Testify At Hearing In Council Chambers

After hearing but two witnesses at the inquest in the death of Police Officer Clarence B. Campbell last evening, the coroner's jury retired and brought in a verdict that Campbell came to his death on the morning of May 23, 1932, at or near 8:25 a. m., D. S. T. on North Liberty street, New Castle, Pa., as the result of gunshot wounds received at the hands of an unknown assailant.

The inquest was held in the council chambers at the city building and was attended by only a few persons, so quietly had it been arranged. Most of these persons were witnesses but were not summoned to testify before the jury.

The hearing was most perfunctory. Ashley H. Hill, assistant treasurer, and Dr. L. W. Wilson, who conducted the autopsy at the hospital, being the only witnesses summoned, the object being to determine only the time, place and manner of Campbell's death.

Hill Tells Story.

Mr. Hill, the first witness summoned, stated that he was employed with the Mahoning Trust Co., and on the morning of May 23, in com-

Hunger And Want In Great Russian Grain Producing State Is Deplorable

Thousands Of Poor Ragged Peasants Are Fleeing From Country, Hunting Work

Following is the first of a series of articles by the Moscow Bureau Manager of International News Service, who has gone to the Ukraine, the Soviet Union's great grain producing republic, to investigate actual conditions among the Peasants, who frequently have been reported in actual revolt against the Soviet government.

KHARKOV, Ukraine, May 26.—Hunger and seizure of property have reached a point in Ukraine where mass emigration has set in.

One who has not witnessed this appaling phenomenon cannot comprehend the awe it inspires. Millions of poor, ragged peasants, their worldly goods stuffed into old sacks hung over their shoulders, are on the move.

No Set Goal

They do not know where they are going. They flow ceaselessly in all directions over the vast, rolling steppes of southern Russia, wherever a path, a road, or a railroad can be found.

They present a problem with which authorities are powerless to cope. There are too many of them.

They want food, because, despite increased acreage, the 1931 grain crop was far from sufficient.

Trains are jammed as no New York subway ever thought of being jammed. Stations are even more crowded. Folks wait three days and more before they are able to board a train for somewhere, it hardly matters where. They sit huddled on their sacks, patiently waiting.

Well Known New Castle Man Fatally Hurt At Conneaut Lake

WAS PREPARING 'RIDE' FOR SEASON

HARRY M. LONG

Harry M. Long, 34, of 713 Emerson Avenue, was fatally hurt Wednesday evening in Conneaut Lake Park, when he slipped from the top of a Sea Plane ride fixture about forty feet to the ground. The accident happened about 5:30 and he died near midnight in the Meadville Hospital.

With his partner, Thomas Cowles of this city, Mr. Long had gone to Conneaut Lake Park to put the ride equipment in shape for the opening of the park on Saturday. The equipment consists of a tall center pole with arms running out from it much like the ribs of an umbrella. Along each arm is a row of electric lights and suspended from it a cabinlike affair in the shape of a plane cockpit.

Mr. Long had climbed to the top of the equipment and had started to put electric light bulbs in the sockets when in some manner he

While no facts were made public, County Detective H. M. Campbell who robbed the Mahoning Trust bank messengers of $23,000 on Monday, May 23.

Late Wednesday the trail led eastward and officers in New Jersey took up the hunt for the bandits. There is a possibility that the mob back of the murder and holdup may have had headquarters in or around New York City and this angle of the clues is being investigated. The search through Canton, Lorain, Toledo, Akron and Detroit continues and every police department in Ohio, Michigan and West Virginia is lending its aid towards a solution of the crime.

Mayor Walker Drew Profit Of $246,692; Made No Investment

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 26.—Mayor James J. Walker steeled himself for another bitter verbal battle today with Samuel Seabury at the Hofstadter legislative inquiry which, with Walker on the stand as the star witness, is developing into one of the most extraordinary spectacles ever staged in a hearing room.

The dapper, wise-cracking mayor of the biggest city in the county is fighting desperately to maintain his reputation as an honorable public official while Seabury, with rentless determination, is striving to tear that reputation to shreds.

Walker, near the close of his first full day on the stand, made one sensational admission, namely, that without putting up a cent of money he drew a profit of $246,692.76 from a joint stock brokerage account with Paul Block, the newspaper publisher, in 1927, 1928 and 1929.

Grand Jury To Hear Evidence Against Curtis

Dr. John F. Condon In Massachusetts, Says Boston Bootlegger Got Ransom

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., May 26.—A grand jury convening today in Flemington, N. J., was to be given the case against John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk, Va., boat builder, who confessed his story of negotiations with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby was a hoax.

Justice Thomas W. Trenchard, of the supreme court, will be in Flemington tomorrow to receive indictments if they are voted.

That true bill would be found against Curtis was the belief of the latter's counsel, W. C. Pender, who said in Norfolk he expected his client to be indicted on the misdemeanor charge of obstructing justice by furnishing false information.

No Developments

There were few developments in the search for the abductors and slayers of the infant son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Dr. John F. Condon, "Jafsie" intermediary who paid $50,000 ransom to one of the supposed kidnapers, remained at Becket, Mass. He received a mysterious telegram, which he later said was from a former pupils of his and was of "importance."

He was quoted in a Boston newspaper as asserting the "John" to whom he paid the futile ransom was a Boston bootlegger

Croton Avenue Hill fence is in a dilapidated condition at several points along the hill.

Approximately a score of mayor's relief committee workmen are actually building a wall in the Neshannock creek, north of North Street bridge. The trench for the wall is being extended.

Ellwood City police officers who patrolled the streets here during the funeral of Officer Clarence Campbell, yesterday, made a fine impression. The officers were spic and span in blue uniforms, and knew their job.

Temperatures seem to be warming up for Memorial Day. For the last two years, the weather has been extremely warm on Memorial Day. Yesterday, incidentally, was the warmest day of the spring to date, the mercury rising to 88 degrees.

Pa Newc observed a large group of youths in bathing in the Neshannock Creek, near the Pennsylvania R. R. crossing on Croton avenue last evening. The water seemed to be warm enough to make it enjoyable, too.

The warm weather is beginning to draw the June bugs out of the ground and within a few days now, the pests will probably be seen flying around in great numbers.

An automobile on East North street yesterday afternoon carried three lawn mowers in the rumble seat. Looks as if some lawn is going to get trimmed right.

144th Presbyterian General Assembly Meeting In Western State Today

(International News Service)

DENVER, May 26.—With nearly 1,000 commissioners or delegates in attendance the 144th Presbyterian general assembly opened its sessions here today, prepared to go on record on a number of problems affecting church activities.

Prohibition, birth control and economic issues are expected to receive consideration.

Delegates attending the session expect to see a finish fight between the modernist and the fundamentalist factions for control of church policies. The first important clash is expected today when a moderator is elected. Liberal leaders will offer Dr. Joseph A. Ance of Detroit, president of the board of national missions, and Dr. Charles W. Kerr of Tulsa, Okla., as their candidates. Leaders of the conservative faction announced that they would name a "dark horse" candidate.

The future of the nation is in the hands of the church, Rev. Lewis Seymour Mudge of Philadelphia, retiring moderator, declared in formally opening the sessions. He asserted that the church founded and fostered the nation and must take the responsibility for the future of the nation.

Pronounced Movement To Include Five Day Week Plan In Legislation

Would Have Government Lead Way And Set Example For Private Industries

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A pronounced movement to include the five-day week in unemployment relief legislation was reported in the house today as pressure increased in both senate and house for congressional action.

Advocates of the shorter week seized upon the proposal of Speaker Garner of the house and the senate Democratic public works program as a means of furthering the principle of five-days labor.

Leaders in the movement for a shorter work-week declared the government should set an example for private industry. Many drastic proposals were being considered, including virtual stoppage of all government business on the same day to force private industry to the shorter week.

Mass Meeting

With the $2,300,000,000 business rehabilitation program of senate Democrats completed, Speaker Garner of the house expected to have his own $2,100,000,000 plan reduced to bill form and introduced today.

A mass meeting of members of the house, to promote sentiment for congressional legislation, will be held tonight, with President William Green of the American Federation of Labor as one of the chief speakers.

Today Seabury was prepared to delve more deeply into this account, as well as other business transactions of the mayor. It was strongly intimated at the superior court building where the hearing is being held that sensational developments are impending.

Marcus Feutchwanger, Laurel boulevard, will leave Friday evening for a trip to Newark, N. J., and Philadelphia.

The children were taken to their homes and given medical attention, but it was found they suffered no fractured bones or internal injuries, but a number of cuts, contusions and bumps. Both were put to bed, suffering from shock more than their injuries.

in the stations is unbelievable, but the peasants stick it out days and nights on end, waiting for a train in which there may be room to squeeze.

This vain, aimless wandering in search of food, shelter and work is changing the appearance of the countryside. Many villages are deserted while others, where it has been rumored that life has a chance to exist, are horribly overcrowded.

The little village of Eigenfeld, one of a number of German villages in the southern Ukraine, is deserted. Where a few months ago reasonably thriving little groups of industrious peasants of German descent lived and worked and gossiped in Russianized German, today only a couple of hungry stray cats slink through alleys, seeking food they cannot find.

Purposeless Wandering

This spontaneous, purposeless wandering is a sure sign that something is wrong with the system, or at least with the way it is being carried out.

The Russia, to be sure, is nomadic by nature, and much given to making long and indefinite trips. He does not have the "home" feeling about any particular spot of ground. To him the "little mother Russia" is "home" and as long as he is within her borders he is at peace. But even when wanderlust calls him most relentlessly, except in bad years, the Russian does not move in the mass way Ukrainian peasants are moving now.

The winter of 1931-32 was not as bad as the terrible famine of 1921-22, just a decade ago. There have been no signs and no reports that people have been forced to eat shoe leather in great numbers. At the same time this year may be compared with greater accuracy to the frightful winter and spring 10 years ago than to any of the years that intervened.

ment that he will invite the state treasurer and others to confer with him.

General Martin observed:

"My position has always been that a conference was essential to a program. Now that the governor takes the same view we can possibly get somewhere."

Martin, both as state treasurer and as the Republican state chairman, will meet with legislative leaders in Philadelphia tomorrow. State finances will be discussed.

Protests Are Many

With protests against appropriation slashing matching in strength and fervor the wide opposition to tax increases, capital observers today predicted new forms of taxation as inevitable and as the only means of coping with present financial difficulties.

Opposed to a bond issue in favor of a pay-as-you-go policy and viewing the possibility of a $16,000,000 deficit in the state treasury at the end of the current biennium, tax-boosting proponents saw their movement gather fresh momentum. An increased gasoline levy returned to the realm of possibilities and a sales tax in some form was seriously considered on many sides.

Philadelphia Hopeful

Meanwhile, Philadelphia legislators, committed to the harmony move, were anticipating enactment of home rule legislation which would enable that city to raise money through special taxes and to readjust its own financial affairs to some extent.

Although observers believed a program agreeable to all could not be mapped out in a single conference next week, they predicted the proclamation for an extraordinary session would go forward in less than three weeks with the date for convening fixed for shortly after the national conventions in Chicago. Predicted upon an agreed program work of a special session could be accomplished in three weeks, they asserted.

pany with William McCombs, Leon E. McCreary, employes of the bank, and Officer Campbell, secured a satchel full of money at the Union Trust company and started for their bank in Mahoningtown.

"It was approximately 8:10 when we pulled out of Mercer street and between 8:20 and 8:25 when we arrived in front of the Mahoning Trust company on Liberty street, seventh ward," he said.

"William McCombs was driving the car. I was sitting directly behind McCombs and Officer Campbell was seated in the rear seat with me.

"As we arrived in front of the bank we drove just past the alley which comes alongside the bank and stopped. Leon McCreary, who was following us in a Ford coupe, drove up directly behind them and stopped.

"As we pulled up to the curb, Officer Campbell got out and I stooped to unlock the grip containing the money.

"This grip is shaped something like a traveling bag, and is mesh lined. Instead of regular clasps like a traveling bag, it has iron staples through the frame at the top. To lock it, we shove an iron bar through the staples, attached to which is an iron chain, which we wrap around the grip and lock to the frame of the seat in front.

Did Not See Killer.

"The customary procedure after arriving at the bank is for Officer Campbell to step out and look around around while we unlock the grip. On this morning Officer Campbell opened the door and stepped out onto the curb, while I started to unlock the money bag. I did not see a soul in sight before I started to do this. While I had my head down I heard a report, which turned out to be the shot which struck Campbell. I did not see anyone at all as I had just unlocked the grip then and still had my head down.

"The two men came out of the lobby of the hotel and pulled machine guns from beneath their coat and came up and covered us with their guns, as the man who did the killing calmly stepped over the body of Campbell which was lying at the back of the car and got into the machine which pulled down alongside us.

"While the one man shoved a machine gun in at one window, the other came to the other window and pointing the gun at me commanded, 'Give it to me and give it to me quick.' His gun sagged down as he reached in to get the money bag, and when he got hold of the bag he surged forward with its weight."

Car Not in Alley.

In response to a question from one of the jurors, Mr. Hill stated that the car which the bandits got into had not been parked in the alley alongside the bank, but had either followed them from up town or had been parked at a vantage point farther up the street.

He said that Campbell's body was lying out in the street, at the rear of their car. When shot, he had apparently fallen forward on his face and then turned over on his back. He had evidently suspected the man sitting in front of the hotal and was trying to get behind the car, where he could get the drop on him.

Dr. Loyal W. Wilson was the next witness summoned. He stated that he has been a physician and surgeon here for 41 years and knew Officer Clarence B. Campbell. He said that he saw him at the Jameson Memorial hospital on the morning of May 23, 1932, at about 9 o'clock and that he was dead.

Death was due to a gunshot wound in the back, the doctor stated, which had been made by 12 slugs. There were 12 openings thru the skin, passing through the 11th and 12th dorsal and first lumbar vertebra and through the muscles of his back into the liver and up into his lungs. These cut off and perforated the pulmonary blood vessels, causing a hemorrhage, which was the primary cause of death, although the bullets also cut off the 11th rib and passed through the body of three vertebrae and injured the spinal cord. The real cause of death was hemorrhage, however, the doctor stated.

The jury then retired and rendered its verdict.

Those comprising the jury were Leonard A. Campbell, John Connery, Charles E. Allen, William T. Dugan, Joseph W. Dukes and John B. Haley.

Senate Resumes Drive On Taxes

"Tax The Rich" Drive Renewed, May Reinsert Scale Of Luxury Taxes In Bill

PROTESTS HEARD FROM LEADERS

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A "tax the rich" drive was resumed in the senate today as the senate finance committee held an early morning session to reinsert a scale of luxury taxes in the billion dollar revenue bill.

A series of protests from Democratic and insurgent leaders forced the committee to agree to revise the excise provisions of the bill. Protests, coming from Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader, and Senator Norris, insurgent leader, were against elimination of such luxury levies as the taxes on furs, jewelry, yachts and sporting goods.

New Hope Arises.

The situation gave new hope of success to the advocates of a general manufacturers' sales tax. There was so much resentment against the committee's action in abandoning the luxury taxes—while increasing postal rates—that the sales tax leaders believed the senate would turn ultimately to the general levy in order to avoid discriminations against certain industries.

The sales tax fight will be waged after all specific taxes are fixed by the senate. It may not come before Saturday. It will be the last battle before the bill passes the senate.

A new schedule was adopted by the senate to speed passage of the bill. It met at 10 a. m. while the committee was called into session at 8:30 a. m. This probably was the earliest committee session in the senate since war days.

Eczema on Son's Face. Had to Tie Hands. Cuticura Healed.

"Eczema broke out on my son's face. It was in a patch about the size of a half dollar, and was very red. It itched and he used to scratch until it would bleed. I had to tie his hands to keep him from scratching, and he lost considerable sleep on account of it.

"I used several other remedies which failed to help him. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in about two months he was completely healed, after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. W. C. THE ROAD TO HEALTH

THE good old summer time adds another virtue—it is the healthiest time of the year. This announcement based on the records of one of the great insurance companies deserves careful study. As late as 1910 there were almost as many deaths in summer as in winter. Since then a lot has been learned and the result is that the summer time "year after year, registers a lower mortality than any other period of the year."

Influenza, respiratory diseases, cardiac and renal conditions and the principal diseases of the nervous system, which, together, account for nearly half of all deaths, lose much of their potency in summer. Such a statement proposes some challenging problems to science. Nor is the job up to the physicians alone. What were some of the factors that in recent years removed some of the greatest perils to human life?

Less than a score of years ago typhoid and the so-called summer complaints, acute diseases of the digestional tract, made the summer months as deadly as the coldest and dampest seasons. Doubtless the doctors helped to better these conditions. But fly screens, refrigerators, clean milk and improved sanitation played the larger part.

And lately has been added the cult of the sun. Sensible dress, outdoor recreation, increased knowledge of proper diet, abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables, relaxation due to the vacation spirit, freedom of movement facilitated by the automobile and doubtless scores of other influences have tended to soothe nerves, strengthen hearts, increase lung capacity and build up vitality during the summer months.

The success of these achievements suggests that further applications of scientific knowledge and common sense may rob winter of much of its terror. Just how much might be accomplished by general use of window glass that would not screen out certain life-giving rays of sunlight; by lessening the smoke and dust in the air; by suppressing the noise nuisance; by improving heat regulation in winter living rooms; by improved housing for all the people; by the same thoroughness in administering toxin-antitoxin to prevent diphtheria as is practiced in vaccinating for smallpox, and perhaps by even a slight extension of medical knowledge of the use of preventive serums to make them effective in the treatment of common colds and other distinctly winter diseases, one would hesitate to predict.

But the achievements in clearing up health conditions in summer are basis for hopes.

LIFTING ONE BAN ON THE BOURGEOISIE

It might be easy to attach too much significance to the Moscow decree permitting the "declassed elements" in Russia to buy food and goods at the co-operative stores. This means a reduction in the cost of living to the classes which have suffered constant oppression from the Soviet Government.

Here is another piece of evidence, however slight, that the Bolshevist scheme of things is breaking down here and there. In the sphere of industry pure Communism has been found not to work very well. Now the professional men, traders and landowners who have been under the ban are getting a little relief. Repression even of a minority is not good policy.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

LIGHT IN THE GLOOM

If one were to confine his reading to the debates in Congress, especially those speeches made in opposition to the Administration, he would be overwhelmed with the pessimistic conclusion that the country has gone to the demnition bow wows and never could come back.

But, fortunately, there are some other sources of information and when we turn to them the gloom immediately begins to lighten. For example, the Advertising Federation of America has recently made a survey of 504 companies in many lines of business and reports that of 303 concerns 60% actually made profits in 1931. In fact, 71 of these companies, or one out of seven, earned a greater profit in 1931 than in 1930.

And then the reader in search of encouraging facts could turn to the Department of Commerce report and learn that of the 2,125,288 concerns in business in 1931, only 28,285, or 1.33% failed. That is a percentage of failure which has been often exceeded, even in what we called good times.

All Of Us

When Do We Grow?
When We Least Expect It
In the Darkness

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I read in a book something I should have known without reading, by seeing for myself.

I read that green things do not grow in the hot blaze of the midday sun.

They grow in the long twilight, they grow in the overcast and gloomy days, they grow in the darkness of the night.

Have you seen weeds and flowers in a ravine, in the shade of thick trees, growing high and reaching far toward the sky? The sun does not reach them, but they grow toward the sun. . . . Have you seen weeds and flowers of the same species in an open field, low in height, close to the ground, checked in growth—satisfied, it seems, to keep to their dwarfish stature? The sun has held them down. . . . Have you noticed in high mountains that the plants are small, delicately formed but little? The sun in those high places comes fiercely to the earth; the plants cannot grow up. The nights are usually chilly, and the cold checks the plants. Their best interval of growth is the short twilight of the high mountains.

The green things do not grow in the golden sunlight; they grow in the purple dark. And this is true of everything—of the tiny Alpine plants, of the tender young corn on the wide praries and of human beings as well.

We do not grow in the spotlight when all men are looking full upon us. We grow, if we do grow, when we are alone, in our darker days, when we are under pressure. "Character," a wise man whose name I've forgotten, says, "is what we are in the dark." Character is formed when the future is somewhat dimmed and we must make a path for ourselves through a tangle of uncertainties. Then we shape ourselves for the great moments, for actions that any man may see us perform. Our hearts do not decide suddenly; they grow slowly in the quiet moments. And many a man or woman has grown greatly in periods of adversity who did not grow at all beneath the hot, fierce sun of sudden success and cheaply-won praise.

If you do not believe, measure a plant's growth during a summer's day and measure it again after a warm, rich night. . . . And notice how often a man seems stronger in his times of trouble than he was when he was boldly triumphant.

Once Overs

THE GOOD-FELLOW GIRL

The good-fellow sort of girl, the free and easy kind "willing to try almost anything once", erroneously believes she is a winner with the boys.

To a certain degree she may be popular, yes.

But the boys don't want their sisters to emulate her, nor does she meet the requirements they have set for the girl they want to marry.

As playfellow girls, good scouts, girls don't carry a very high regard among their men and boy friends, whom they most wish to please.

There is a plane of womanliness, respect and honor, from which a girl should not wish to depart and cannot afford to descend.

If she does try a compromise she cannot regain what she has long among those who know of her easy principles.

It is not necessary for a girl to be too straight-laced, so much so that she is suspicious of every boy and is doubtful of his intentions or principles.

She should not be the sort that sees something bad and harmful in practically every diversion in which young folk indulge.

The youth of today is no worse at heart than their elders were but they are sooner disillusioned and lose much of life's beauty by trying to seize its pleasures too fast to know what it is all about.

Just Folks

BACK TO OLD DAYS

They want to get married some day!
Ah, me.
And they've little to start with and times are slow!
But how like us they appear to be
In our courtship days of the long ago.

They are counting cost as we used to do,
The youngsters eager and strong and brave.
The harum-scarums we thought we knew
Are actually thinking of ways to save!

Now they must start in our humble
way,
For the mad extravagant years
have gone,
And the pleasures and cares of our yesterday
Are being lived over by Jane and John.

I hear them talking their little schemes.
Some day they'll get married and I am glad
They must work and plan for their little dreams,
For they'll know the joy which their parents had.

REMARKABLE RESULTS FROM CLASSIFIED AD

Earl Grissmer, circulation manager of the Houston Press, is responsible for this one:

"A Houston woman reports one of the most remarkable results on record from a single classified ad. A few weeks ago the Press ran a free employment advertisement for her daughter. The young woman not only got a job, but she promptly married the man who hired her and got a wealthy husband who owns a yacht and several houses."

Mr. Grissmer reports that the advertiser in this instance is very well pleased with the Press.

Withdrawal Of Owen Young Stirs Hopes Of Dark Horses

Estimates Of Industrial Leader Who Refuses To Seek Democratic Nomination Emphasize His Service To Country

New possibilities in the canvass for the Democratic Presidential nomination are the subject of general discussion as a result of the announcement by Owen D. Young that he is out of the race. Much regret is expressed over this development, and while it is suggested that Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt may gain by his decision, there is a feeling of certainty that greater attention will be paid to others who have been classed as the dark horse of the campaign. Mr. Young's public services are widely praised.

The BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD (Dem.), which has been a consistent supporter of Mr. Young, states that "together with other devoted believers in Owen Young," it "cannot help being saddened by this decision on his part." That paper observes that "renunciation comes at the very moment when he has become perhaps the leading 'dark horse'," while conceding that under the changed status "he is in a strategic position to be incalculably helpful in the shaping of national measures of relief." The HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.) says of Mr. Young that "many have believed that he is the very best man in America to assume leadership in the present trying times."

While recognizing that "he was at no time an active candidate," the HOUSTON CHRONICLE (Dem.) feels that "it is regrettable that Owen D. Young closed the door behind him as he went out, because Democracy has long numbered him among its outstanding and influential leaders." The MORGANTOWN DOMINION-NEWS (Ind. Dem) declares: "The general acceptance of the announcement of his unwillingness and inability to accept the nomination as final is a tribute to the high regard in which Mr. Young is held. A man of his known ability and recognized standing can be of immeasurable service at this hour. That is why we read into his renouncement of the Presidency an element that has something of the heroic in it."

"That it removes from the field of choice one of the best and most available of the several Democratic possibilities is unfortunate," in the opinion of the LYNCHBURG NEWS (Dem.), which voices the hope that "others, whether seeking the nomination, or indifferent to the nomination, or avoiding the nomination, will not place themselves out of the running and deprive the party of the opportunity to make a choice from a splendid field." The SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) REPUBLICAN (Ind.) holds that his action "necessitates a fresh appraisal of the prospects of those who can be regarded as candidates," while the New York Sun (Ind.), remarking that "his letter will be read with regret by thousands of admirers," feels that "his decision may add sharpness to the Democratic contest."

"The mere removal of such a man from the field of possibilities," states the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL (Ind. Rep.), "is the country's loss." The BOISE IDAHO STATESMAN (Rep.) declares that, as a candidate, "Mr. Young, a man of admitted business ability, and high professional standing, who has a keen understanding of political and economic problems, would command the respect of many intelligent voters of both parties." The DANVILLE (Va.) REGISTER (Dem.) offers the comment: "Mr. Young's declination, in one respect at least, should be deeply gratifying to the American people. Here at last has been found a great private citizen, of large fortune, who is willing to serve without political reward. The author of the Young Plan for the payment of reparations has been drafted for national and international service by both Republican and Democratic administrations. Whether or not he would be President, he will be as willing to serve his country in the future as he has been in the past."

"What the country needs just now," in the judgment of the NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.), "is ideas, enlightenment, and direction, more than a candidate for the Presidency." While recording that the declination of Mr. Young "will be widely regretted," The Evening News adds: "By taking himself out of consideration as a possible candidate, Mr. Young has acquired a pulpit from which he can speak on national affairs without having his motives questioned. That could not happen as long as he was even potentially in the race. In fact, his two recent utterances—one mentioning the equalization fee as a possible way to open a path out of the depression, and the other favoring a bond issue—were widely interpreted as the neighing of a dark horse."

"Mr. Young is evidently too farseeing and too broad-minded a Democrat to lend himself to obstructive politics," thinks the ATLANTA JOURNAL (Dem.), while the CHARLESTON (S.C.) EVENING POST (Dem.), conceding that "doubtless he would make an acceptable and perhaps a brilliant President," advises that "he is more than justified in making a definite declaration, since he is resolved not to permit himself to be used against any other aspirant." The ROANOKE TIMES (Dem.) finds in Mr. Young's action the suggestion that "the forces which are opposing Governor Roosevelt need not go any further with plans to make Mr. Young the spear head of their attack." The NASHVILLE BANNER (Ind.) concludes: "Mr. Young displayed a fine sense of propriety and sound judgment in declining to enter a contest from which he could not hope to have emerged successful, and which might easily have developed features that would have grated upon his sensibilities."

As a result, "the Roosevelt campaign takes on additional power," in the opinion of the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD (Ind. Dem.), a view in which there is concurrence by the DAVENPORT DEMOCRAT (Dem.) and the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS (Ind.). That there is resulting gain for Newton D. Baker is the view of the DES MOINES TRIBUNE (Ind.-Rep.), the CHARLESTON (W. Va.) DAILY MAIL (Ind. Rep.), and the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.). The SCRANTON TIMES (Dem.) sees gain for either Baker or Ritchie.

"As the head of one of the country's large corporations," says the LOWELL EVENING LEADER (Ind.), "Mr. Young has shown himself as capable as he did in his conduct of the important missions which he undertook abroad. Those qualifications would certainly not come amiss in the public service. But Mr. Young is well aware of the unfortunate prejudice on the part of the more radical elements in both parties. If he has any desire to serve the people in such a position as the Presidency, it is humiliating to think that he must yield to a foolish antipathy to success in big affairs."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

COPRA

Copra is an important item in the commerce of the Pacific Ocean. All good novelists writing about the South Seas have to talk about a "copra mine." It is the dried white meat of the cocoanut. It comes principally from the Philippine Islands and from the South Sea Islands of the Pacific.

Each year about 150,000 tons of copra is brought to San Francisco Bay, in California, where there are four mills engaged in crushing the copra and refining its products. When the copra is crushed, about 65 per cent of it goes into oil which, when purified and refined, is used throughout America in the manufacture of cooking fats, artificial butter, and toilet soaps.

The 35 per cent of the product remaining after the oil is removed is pressed into cakes, which are used primarily for feeding livestock. Much of the latter is exported to Denmark, where it is mixed with other feed for dairy cattle in order to increase the milk yield.

State Health Department Has Big Staff Here

Force Of Doctors, Nurses, And Others Employed In Lawrence County

DR. H. C. HARPER MEDICAL DIRECTOR

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, May 26— The Pennsylvania State Department of Health, Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary, reaches into Lawrence County with a personnel of physicians, nurses, clinics and health officers that brings its activities very close to many of the citizens of the county.

Charged with the duty of defending the public health, the State Health Department functions in rural communities, small towns and those towns and townships that do not have health boards to carry forward their own health work.

The chief representative of the State Department of Health in Lawrence County is Dr. H. C. Harper, New Castle, County Medical Director. To him is delegated the duty of carrying out the regulations that have been promulgated by the Adisory Health Board of the state, and he has supervision of all health activities in the entire county.

Two Nurses Here

Two visiting nurses of the State Health Department are located within the confines of the county. They are Katherine Lyons, R. N. and Grace Ackerman, R. N. both of New Castle. Miss Lyons and Miss Ackerman are in weekly attendance at the tuberculosis clinic held at 11 East street each Tuesday afternoon, the social hygiene clinic held at 11 East street, New Castle, each Monday afternoon and the child health clinic held at Sciota street on Tuesday morning and at the Dry Goods Company on Thursday mornings.

One health officer, working under the direction of Dr. J. Moore Campbell, chief of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases, is in the employ of the State Department of Health. George E. Montgomery, Volant, has charge of a health district in the county. His work covers the entire county, excepting those cities, boroughs and first class townships that may have their own health officers.

Milk control in Lawrence county, is in charge of A. J. Hauser, 283 Walnut street, Meadville, who is Milk Control Officer under the State Department of Health for District Number 1, in which Lawrence County is located.

School medical inspection of all fourth class districts in Lawrence County is carried forward by the Bureau of Child Health, State Department of Health, with Dr. J. Bruce McCreary, Deputy Secretary of Health, in charge. The medical inspectors are—Dr. H. M. Hart, New Wilmington, Dr. G. E. Seal, New Castle and Dr. E. D. Jackson, Enon Valley.

The gathering of Vital Statistics—births, marriages, deaths—is done for the State Department of Health in this county by the following persons:

H. E. McClymonds, Ellwood City
A. Clyde Shoaf, New Castle
Mrs. Cora M. McElwee, New Wilmington
C. F. Miles, Wampum.

In addition to all this ,work of the Pre-School Division frequently comes into Lawrence County, together with inspection by the Division of Restaurant Hygiene, Bureau of Drug Control, General Field Inspection and other health activities. It is not unusual for more than 100 specimens to be submitted to the Bureau of Laboratories of the State Department of Health in a single month by physicians from this county, the analysing of which is done in the interest of disease diagnosis and is without cost to the patient.

A social hygiene clinic under the State Department of Health is held each Monday and Friday at 11 East street, New Castle, with Doctor Prioletti in charge. Thus briefly, for the information of the tax payers, is recounted the activities of the State Department of Health as they directly touch, and apply to, Lawrence County.

REALLY now—how often have you wondered why the subject of inhaling has been generally avoided in cigarette advertising?

Why the mystery? Why the silence? We all inhale—knowingly or unknowingly! Each and every one of us breathes in some part of the smoke from our cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to bring up this vital question—for Luckies have the answer! Luckies assure you the clean, pure cigarette you want . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Enforcement Cost Given For State

Bureau Of Prohibition Makes Report For State During Year

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News

WASHINGTON, May 26—Per capita expenditures by Uncle Sam on enforcement of the national prohibition law are somewhat higher in Pennsylvania than in the country in general, according to figures made public by the Bureau of Prohibition.

The Bureau reports expenditures in Pennsylvania for the present fiscal year as totaling $830,088.03. Upon the basis of the 1930 population count, this indicates a per capita enforcement cost of 8.7 cents. The per capita cost for the country as a whole, on the other hand, is listed as only 8.6 cents.

Of the forty-eight states, twenty six are reported as having higher per capita enforcement costs than Pennsylvania. Nevada has the highest such expenditure—36.1 cents per resident. Wyoming comes second with a per capita expenditure of 30.7 cents.

Ohio is credited with the lowest enforcement expenditure in the country, such payments in the Buckeye State averaging only 3.7 cents per resident.

Tomato plants are being distributed now to the unemployed gardeners about the city, it was stated this morning.

These plants were raised from seed furnished by the American National Red Cross and were grown at the hot houses of Butz Brothers and the Carnegie Steel Company.

It is believed that there will be enough to supply all gardeners who are receiving help from the county and various organizations. People are asked to procure their cards for plants from the county or other organization from which they have been receiving assistance.

TEN CENTS of every FOOD DOLLAR is WASTED

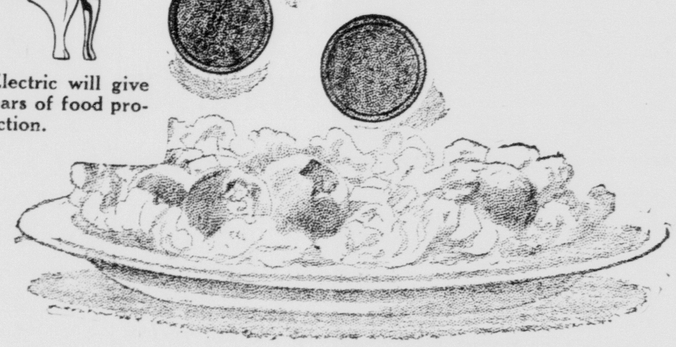

Electric Refrigeration Prevents Costly Food Waste

A General Electric will give you many years of food protection.

That half-bottle of sour milk . . that wilted lettuce . . . and those left-overs you threw away—they seem like trifles at the time. But added together they amount to one-tenth of the average family's food bill. Much of this costly waste is prevented with automatic electric refrigeration. For food is kept fresh four to five times longer. Wilted lettuce and vegetables can be refreshened. Left-overs can be kept and used later.

A small deposit will put a General Electric in your home. The saving in food will go a long way toward helping you pay for it.

Hundreds of miles of thin strands of wire provide the pathway by which electricity travels to your home. Every foot must be continually safeguarded. This is one of the costs of electric service.

Memorial Service For Veterans Of All Wars Is Held

American Legion And Auxiliary Have Most Interesting Service Last Night

Memorial service held last evening at the Legion Home by Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion and its auxiliary, in which representatives of the Civil War, Spanish War and World War organization and their auxiliaries participated, proved one of the outstanding events in the history of Gaston Post and its auxiliary.

The Memorial ceremony carried out was an entirely original conception and the beauty of the ceremonial was due to the untiring efforts of J. Glenn Berry, commander of Perry S. Gaston Post, Mrs. E. J. Suber, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary and Mrs. Orville Potter, chairlady of the affair. It was the first occasion on which veterans of all the principal wars of the United States were remembered in a service. The altar was beautiful with a large wreath and floral decoration. This wreath and floral decoration was today placed on Memorial in the Public Square by Commander J. Glenn Berry and Orville Potter.

Seven veterans of the Civil War were in attendance, including Commander D. M. Clark of Post No. 100, C. B. Hamilton, adjutant of Post No. 100, Philipp Wagner, A. R. Kerr, H. G. Sharpe, R. H. Wilson, I. H. Cooper. The evening was brought to a close with the serving of refreshments.

Ivor V. Davis was master of ceremonies and opened the affair with appropriate address of welcome to the representatives of the Civil War, Spanish American War and World War organizations that filled the hall of the home.

The program included the following:—March music during which the color bearers Mrs. Orville Potter, Mrs. Phil Greer, Mrs. Ivor Davis and Mrs. Wilbur Chapman came to attention. The colors were retired and advanced.

Lillian Hartman, chaplain of the auxiliary then led in prayer, after which the entire assembly sang America. The assembly then joined in the salute to the flag led by Ivor V. Davis.

Mrs. Carl Wallace then presented a medley of patriotic airs. Miss Mary Elizabeth Suber then followed with an address on National Defense, which was not only interesting but well presented. Mrs. William Runkle then sang a solo with Mrs. Carl Wallace as accompanist. Attorney Clarence A. Patterson followed with a fine address.

Introduction of representatives of various organizations followed, including D. M. Clark, commander of the G. A. R., William Dickson, commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, Mrs. Lily Davies, president of the Spanish War Veterans auxiliary, Commander Jack LaRue of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and special guests. Mrs. A. R. Kerr was the representative of the ladies of the G. A. R., while there were two representatives of the Women's Overseas Service League who saw service in France present also.

The color bearers then prepared the altar for the memorial service while special music was played. The Memorial service was then carried out with Major Guy J. Wadlinger and Mrs. Jack Wilson at the north representing the Revolution War period; Thomas Edmunds and Mrs. James Cooper at the east representing the civil war period; James Brice and Mrs. Edgar McKee at the south representing the Spanish American War period and Commander J. Glenn Berry and Mrs. E. J. Suber at the west representing the World War period. The service was ideal and appealed to all.

Benediction by Lillian Hartman, chaplain of the auxiliary followed. Then there was a one minute silent tribute to the Veterans of All Wars followed by Taps, after which the color bearers removed the Altar cloth with wreath and returned. The service was closed with the singing of the national anthem.

The refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. David Cox, Mrs. William M. Reynolds, Mrs. Georgette Wimer and Mrs. Seth Teets.

"The Great Wilno" Dares Death In Performances At Circus Today

Defying death, "The Great Wilno" who is shot from the mouth of a cannon into space and lands in a net many feet away, is one of the interesting attractions at the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus appearing here today.

The Great Hagenbeck - Wallace trained wild animal circus "came to town" today with its galaxy of wild animals, graceful equestrians, rumbling wagons, shrieking calliope and the irresistible army of the "sawdust ring". The long steel trains drawing into the Pennsylvania yards were greeted by several hundred circus fans, many of whom had waited patiently for hours to watch the "circus unload".

Hundreds of others waited at the Mahoning and Cedar streets circus grounds to watch the arrival of the huge wagons filled to overflowing with circus paraphernalia and to "superintendd" the erection of the big-top and the dozens of auxiliary tents. Residents on the streets along which the equipment passed to the lot, rose early and sat on their porches and other vantageous spots to "see what they could see". Alarm clocks had been set to ring in the early hours so that grown folks, as well as children, would not be late upon the scene.

One must see a circus unload in order to appreciate the enormous task and the manner in which it is accomplished. Every man has his duty to perform with precision.

On the lot, the scene is even more fascinating. The "cookhouse" and numerous smaller tents were the first to put in appearance, then came the massive "big-top" with its towering center poles and fluttering banners, the mecca for thousands of New Castle circus fans this afternoon and tonight.

Nearly every kiddie in town was present to help in his or her own meager way, the supervision of the unloading and the erection of the big show, and many of those kiddies have been voting for a good many years, for every man and woman becomes young again on circus day. It was the younger generation, though, that looked for the job of carrying water to the great herd of Hagenbeck-Wallace elephants.

All the famous Hagenbeck-Wallace stars will be on hand both at the afternoon and night performances. There is Clyde Beatty, the world's greatest wild animal trainer, and hero of several narrow escapes from death during the past few months while training the huge mixed groups of wild and ferocious lions and tigers. Forty of the most treacherous beasts on earth; the "Great Wilno"; the noted Hanneford family of bareback riders with Poodles Hanneford, internationally known comique of the sawdust ring; Rudy Rudenoff and his groups of horse acts; the Clarkonians, thrilling aerial act; the Wingert trio, aerialists; the Hagenbeck-Wallace herds of performing pachyderms; the Billetti troupe, sensational, breath-taking high wire artists; the Siegrist troupe, thrilling flyers; the Cronin sisters and Roland sisters, in their whirl and aerial offerings; the McFarlan schools of educated equines to say nothing of the scores of spectacular displays on the two huge stages, the great oval track, and in the three rings—a perfect maze of brilliant features, including a gorgeous opening pageant, "Cleopatra, Queen of Egypt", with its wealth of artistry and costliy wardrobe and trappings.

A Wild West contingent will present real cowboys and cowgirls headed by Oklahoma Curley, Lucile Roberts and Billy Keen together with their western mounts, real bucking horses and long-horn steers.

Following the performance tonight which begins at 8 o'clock with the gates opening one hour earlier allowing a visit through the huge menagerie, said to be the largest zoological exhibit on tour in the world, the big show will depart for Sharon over the Pennsylvania lines where they are scheduled for performances tomorrow.

Work Is Done By Member Of Perry S. Gaston Post

Flag pole in yard of the Legion Home has been painted with silver paint and presents the finest appearance it ever had since it was placed in position. It is one of the highest of such flag poles in the district and the work of painting it was a hazardous piece of work.

The work was done by Carl Becker, a member of the post, who is a well known steeplejack and it was because of his well known ability in such work, that such an excellent job was done.

Attorney Defends Payment Of Fee In Brookville, Pa.

Attorney Offers Defense For Accepting Of $6,000 Fee From Electric Company

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 26.—In the midst of continual verbal clashes between counsel, Raymond Brown, attorney for the Solar Electric company of Brookville, today defended a $6,000 fee he received for obtaining an injunction beneficial to the concern at a hearing before Examiner Samuel Walker of the public service commission here today.

Brown regarded the compensation as "fair and reasonable for his work in restraining residents of Brookville from interfering with the construction of additional electric lines in the borough. His testimony disputed the contention of R. N. Conrad, borough counsel, that the company paid exhorbitant fees to counsel as a means of retaining its present rates.

"As a result of the injunction, stockholders have been able to receive $150,000 for their holdings for which the borough previously offered $46,000," Brown said.

Brown's testimony came after arguments between Conrad and David I. McCahill, attorney for the utility concern in the rate case, over the competency of the circumstances surrounding the injunction. Conrad protested when McCahill sought to show that representatives of the borough cut down poles supporting wires. Examiner Walker sustained the objection, instructing attorneys to confine themselves to Brown's fees.

Senate Adopts Excise Taxes

Excise Tax On Toilet Preparations And Cosmetics Voted

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Almost immediately after convening today the senate adopted the 10 per cent excise tax on toilet preparations and cosmetics.

Soap, tooth paste, mouth washes and dentrifices were exempted from this tax, which is expected to yield $12,000,000 annually.

Moving with rapidity and without record votes, the senate also adopted the 10 per cent excise tax on jewelry without exemptions. The finance committee had recommended that sterling and silverware be exempted.

The five per cent excise tax on mechanical refrigerators was adopted. This is expected to bring in $6,000,000.

MAYOR WALKER AGAIN ON STAND BEFORE PROBERS

and pounded his gavel for order. He threatened to have the demonstrators put out of the room.

Resume Probe.

COUNTY COURT HOUSE, NEW YORK, May 26.—Spic and span in a smartly cut blue suit, Mayor James J. Walker resumed the witness stand before the Hofstadter legislative committee today and again faced his arch political enemy, Samuel Seabury, in the great civic drama that is engaging the attention of the nation.

The hearing room was packed to capacity with eager spectators as the mayor took his seat in the witness chair at 10:58 a. m.

A burst of cheering greeted Walker as he strode into the hearing room and went, almost at once, to the witness chair. He smiled broadly as he took his seat.

Before the examination began, Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier, a minority member of the committee, made a long statement for the record in which he demanded that all testimony of the mayor that referred to his "private affairs" be stricken from the record.

Probe Stock Deals.

Chairman Hofstadter promptly overruled Cuvillier's motion.

Seabury then launched into his examination of Walker. His first question dealt with Walker's testimony of late yesterday when Seabury brought out that Mayor Walker, without putting up any investment of his own, drew $246,692 as his share of the profits from a joint stock account he held with Paul Block, the newspaper publisher, from 1927 to 1929. Walker said Block opened the account through his "benificence".

"Mr. Mayor, will you tell this committee what, in your opinion, was the reason for Mr. Block's benificence?" asked Seabury.

"I suggest that you call Mr. Block," replied the mayor.

Seabury switched from the Block matter to another stock transaction. He asked the mayor whether he and Park Commissioner Walter Herrick discussed the matter of 200 shares of stock in the Interstate Trust company.

The mayor said the subject "probably" had been discussed. But, Walker added, he never told Herrick either personally or over the telephone, or in any other way, that he owned any of that stock.

Negro Women Are Believed To Have Stolen Money

Charles Hill of Baldwin Stop, on the former Harmony line, reported to the police last night that as he was driving up Moravia street that he picked up two negro women and took them to the South Jefferson street bridge, where they got out. After they had gone, he discovered that the proceeds of his pay check, between $35 and $ which he had placed in a pocket of the car, were missing and assumed that the girls had taken the money. The police investigated but failed to locate the women.

Man Stops Attempt To Enter His Home

Police answered a call to the Pratt residence, 118 Fairmont avenue, last night, to investigate an attempt that was made to enter the place. The officers, M. J. Young and D. J. Thomas found that Pratt is an operator on the P. & L. E. and had just arrived home and gone to bed, when he heard someone remove a screen from a window of the house. Mr. Pratt secured his rifle and went out and saw a man running away. He had on a black suit and light cap. The man could not be located when the authorities arrived at the scene.

Artistic Work Is Done At Cemetery

Great Improvement Made At St. Mary's Cemetery On New Wilmington Road

Workmen employed at St. Joseph's cemetery on the New Wilmington road, have just completed a very artistic piece of work along the banks at the entrance to the cemetery. Formerly the banks were ornamented with a pine hedge, but when the road was widened, excavations for the berm came so close to the roots of the trees that many of them died.

This spring all of the trees were removed and a hedge was planted on top of the bank. This still left an unsightly looking bank that washed down with each rain. Recently large standstones have been secured and the bank has been studded with them in such a manner as to practically stop the wash. The improvement has also made a very artistic front to the cemetery which will be further improved when the hedge grows up and grass covers the intersection between the jagged rocks.

In addition to beautifying the banks along the New Wilmington road, the cemetery has been cleaned up, rolled, resown with grass seed, and otherwise beautified with shrubs and flowers.

"I'll smack your sassy face," said Julia Belle McClelland, daughter of Sheriff J. F. McClelland, one of the two young lady occupants.

Bridge Building Routine Speeded

P. S. C. And State Highway Rush Plans For New Beaver-Rochester Bridge

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG May 26—The state highways department and the public service commission today speeded routine procedure to insure earliest posible construction of the new Beaver-Rochester bridge.

While officials in the highways department prepared to advertise for bids for the new span, the public service commission made ready to approve plans for the structure and to modify a previous order directing relocation of the old bridge which was burned in April 1931.

The entire controversy reverted to public service commissioner when Commissioner Samuel Walker conducted a rehearing on original complaints filed by the chamber of commerce of Beaver Valley asserting three crossings in the vicinity of the old bridge were dangerous.

At the rehearing before the commission, attaches of the highways department introduced an agreement by which the Pennsylvania railroad has promised to pay $45,000 as its share of the cost of constructing the new bridge. Since the original span has been destroyed, the commission was informed its order for relocation can not be carried out and a modification of the ruling, approving construction of the new span, was recommended.

Improvements At Westminster

Extensive Campus Work Being Done—May Establish Power Plant

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 26.—Many improvements have been made and are being made on the Westminster College campus during the last month, Professor Baldwin Sears, business manager, announces. Extensive grading operations, started recently, will be continued through the summer months.

Thirty elm trees have been planted, and 500 evergreen trees of various kinds have been placed or transferred. These will eventually be located on the main campus.

Plans for the installation of an electric light power plant to produce current for campus buildings are also being considered. Negotiations in this connection are well under way, Mr. Sears stated yesterday.

The power plant will have either a steam turbine generator or a Diesel engine type geared directly to an electric generator.

An investigation on the part of college officials has disclosed the possibilities of saving of from two to three thousand dollars a year by generating current for college use rather than purchasing current.

The college has under advisement the building of several hard-surface tennis courts to replace the clay courts south of the gymnasium.

Other improvements in college buildings, including painting, papering, and repairs, will be made during the summer vacation period.

Riding Classes Are Formed At Troop Stables

With the advent of the riding season, many civilians are enrolling in the riding classes now being organized by Troop F using the troop horses.

Instruction is under the direction of Sgt. Homer A. Measel, who is also in charge of enrollment in the classes.

The money raised from the riding classes will be placed in a special fund and will be used later on, after the new armory has been built, to beautify the grounds. It is under the control of the Civilian Sponsoring committee composed of L. B. Round, J. B. Brettell, Paul A. Welsh, Dr. W. F. Jackson, Russell C. Melvin, and John A. Kennedy.

Several fine mounts have been purchased with the money raised in this manner in the past, along with some English saddles, a limited number of which are available to riders if they wish them.

Will Plant Twenty Acres In Potatoes

Mercer County Puts Into Use Practical Plan To Help The Needy

SHARON, Pa., May 26.—Taxpayers will be saved the cost of 5,000 or more bushels of potatoes for relief work next winter if normal potato growing conditions prevail in Mercer county under a plan put into effect today by Poor Director Earl Dresch.

Mr. Dresch has secured 20 acres of land which will be cultivated and planted in potatoes. One plot of 11 acres is at the D. J. Mattocks farm near Clarkeville while another 9-acre plot is at the Roy Hoovler farm on the Clarksville road. Machinery from the County Home has been sent to the farms to prepare the soil.

Labor for growing the crop will be provided from the list of families which Mr. Dresch is aiding in the valley. The only cost will be for the seed potatoes and the fertilizer.

Davis And Reed Differ In Vote

U. S. Senators From State Are Split On Increasing Tax On Trucks

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent)
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—Pennsylvania's two Senators split this week on the question of increasing the tax on automobile trucks.

As passed by the House, the tax bill of 1932 called for a two per cent tax on trucks. The Senate Finance Committee increased this to three per cent, but this week the Senate by a 39 to 30 vote refused to accept the Finance Committee amendment and retained the two per cent truck levy approved by the House.

Senator David Reed, member of the Finance Committee, voted with the group unsuccessfully seeking to retain the three per cent tax written by the Committee. Senator James J. Davis voted to reject the three per cent levy, and on a second vote a few moments later voted to retain in the tax bill the two per cent tax on trucks levied by the House.

Reed joined with Davis in voting for the two per cent rate after the three per cent tax had been rejected. The two per cent rate was kept in the bill by a 40 to 29 ballot.

Hoover Reappoints Enon Valley Man

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—President Hoover has sent to the Senate for confirmation the reappointment of Harry C. Best to be postmaster at Enon Valley.

Mr. Best's term of office expired January 24th. After an examination was held by the Civil Service Commission, however, he was recommended for reappointment by Representative J. Howard Swick.

Reed And Davis Oppose Debenture

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent)
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—Senators David Reed and James J. Davis both voted this week against including any farm relief in the revenue bill in the form of the export debenture.

Senator Norris of Nebraska sought to have the debenture added to the bill but his proposal was rejected by a 46 to 33 vote. Senators Reed and Davis both lined up with the coalition of Republicans and Democrats opposing inclusion of the debenture.

BEAVER COUNTY COURT HOUSE IS SWEPT BY FIRE

assisted down ladders, while another was injured seriously and removed to the Rochester General hospital.

Rescue Records

County employes working in the different offices were successful in saving court records and most of the movable furniture which was carried to the jail nearby for safe keeping.

The fire started around 9:30, and gradually ate its way downward, completely destroying the interior of the structure. The only portion saved was a modern addition, erected about ten years ago. Firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from entering this part of the structure.

The building was a three-story brick and stone-trimmed structure. It was stated that the loss on the building is fully covered by insurance.

Fire departments from nearby towns were summoned when it was seen that the Beaver department was unable to cope with the situation and by noon, the fire had been brought under control.

Six fire departments from communities in the Beaver valley rushed men and apparatus to the scene, but the structure was beyond salvation.

Only the walls of the old courthouse were left standing when the fire-fighters brought the blaze under control. It is estimated that reconstruction cost would reach at least $500,000.

Publishers Hear President Hoover

Forty In Conference With President On Wednesday Night

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—President Hoover today had renewed and solidified administration support among an important group of Republican newspapers as a result of a White House conference attended last night by approximately 40 publishers.

The meeting, which lasted until midnight, was assembled by the executive from a selected list to discuss current economic conditions. No new suggestions for possible remedial action were put forward by Mr. Hoover, however, and none were forthcoming from his guests of the evening.

Instead, the president opened the round-table conversation with an oral outline of the seriousness of the present situation. Then he reviewed, step by step, what the administration has done to meet it. He explained, for instance, that his original statements of confidence and optimism—which since have been held up to ridicule in some quarters—were inspired actually by the hope "panic" could be averted in certain sections. He told also how the administration reluctantly had set up the farm board and spent millions in an effort to peg the produce market. Other emergency measures, Mr. Hoover continued, were undertaken one by one as conditions got worse, although he had hoped he would not have to resort to many of them, and each was justified—if only for the momentary effect it had.

A number of the publishers present then spoke in turn, without solicitation, pledging their own support and that of their newspapers to the program the president is now sponsoring.

Man Goes Insane, Attacks Girls

One Girl Fatally Stabbed And Two Others Injured In Cleveland, O.

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, May 26.—An eight-year-old girl was fatally stabbed and two others were seriously wounded today by a man police said went insane and attacked the girls as they were enroute to school.

The dead girl was Elaine Macken. The injured were Rose Marie Parker, 8, who received a deep cut on the throat, and Lena De Sanan, 12, who was cut on the side. They were taken to St. Luke's hospital for treatment.

Police said the attacker was Jack Gordon, 38. He was arrested by a patrolman a short distance from the scene of the attack, and taken to county jail under heavy guard.

The attack occurred while the girls were on their way to St. Cecilia's school.

Exceptions Taken To Holliday Will

Alleged That Undue Influence Was Used In Securing Signature Of Decedent

Mrs. Jessie McNeish has taken exceptions to the probating of the will of the late Hiram Holiday by the executors Frank R. Holliday and Dick Thompson. In papers filed by Register and Recorder Jeannette W. Hutton, in the prothonotary's office this morning, Mrs. McNeish alleges that she is one of the legatees, and that undue influence was used in procuring the will from Hiram Holliday, while he was in an enfeebled condition.

The paper purporting to be the will was made on the 5th of September, 1930. It is witnessed by Lewis Wettich and A. C. Hyde. The signature of decedent is by mark. Under the will the property, real and personal, was left to Frank R. Holliday.

The petition asks that an issue be framed in order that the merits of the case may be laid before a jury for trial.

Jack Young Hopes To Stage 'Come-Back' Here

Jack Young, colored, formerly a professional fighter who left the fight game flat on its back to become locally famous as a dog catcher hopes to stage a comeback.

As a fighter? No, indeed, not, but as a dog catcher—Yes! He wants the job and today shuffled along city hall corridors then into offices where he asked officials for the job.

An ordinance several days ago was introduced by Mayor Mayne and when it is adopted finally there isn't a big or little dog in the city which won't growl.

In fact the ordinance is to the effect that the members of the canine family no longer can make bear-like tracks in gardens and uproot flowers in beds.

That is, they cannot if the dog catcher fulfills the provisions of the ordinance which gives him right to capture dogs running at large.

Under the provisions of the proposed city law unlicensed dogs can be killed and dogs with tags can be impounded. He can charge a 50 cents fee and the cost of their keep.

It is reported that the Humane Society will name a man who will be delegated by the city to carry out the provisions of the ordinance. The dog catcher will not have police power.

It is estimated that there are at least 200 dogs running at large and when the dog catcher finally goes to work there will be plenty for him to do, according to officials.

More Prisoners Jailed In State During Past Year

Commitments To Prisons And Reformatories Shown On Increase

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent)
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—Commitments from courts to state and federal prisons and reformatories made in Pennsylvania last year showed a substantial increase over 1930 and 1929, according to figures made public today by the Department of Commerce.

Offenders committed to prison in the Keystone State last year totaled 2,572. This compared with only 2,397 in 1930 and 2,059 in 1929.

Of those committed to prison last year, 2,503 were men and 69 were women. Men committed in 1930 numbered 2,336 and totaled 1,998 in 1929. Women offenders committed to prison numbered 61 in 1930 and 61 in 1929.

Of the 44 states included in the Commerce Department survey, seven sent more offenders to prison last year than did Pennsylvania.

Discharges from prisons and reformatories in 1931 totaled 2,414 in Pennsylvania, as against 2,124 in 1930 and 2,057 in 1929. Of those discharged last year, 470 got out of confinement through the expiration of sentence and 1,709 were paroled.

Matthew Gunton Again Honored

Advanced To The Position Of First Vice President Of City Planners Organization

New Castle had the distinction of having the largest delegation representing it, of any city associated with the Pennsylvania Association of Planning Commissioners, at the seventh annual convention of the association, which was held in Johnstown, Pa., Monday and Tuesday. The local delegation consisted of Matthew Gunton, chairman of the local Planning Commission, Mrs. S. D. Pearson, Albert Treser and R. M. Hainer, members of the city planning commission and Harry Hoskins, city engineer-elect.

Mrs. Pearson addressed the convention and reported what had been accomplished along civic lines through the work done under the supervision of the Mayor's Relief Committee.

One of the interesting things learned at the convention was the manner in which Reading, Pa., is relieving its unemployment situation. This city with 600 acres of parks already owned and improved, had now taken over or is acquiring 600 acres more for park purposes, including a section known as Penns Woods. Twelve hundred unemployed men are getting two weeks work a month at the rate of forty cents an hour on this project, which is costing $400,000. Part of the money is the proceeds of a bond issue, while the balance and in fact the greater part of it, is subscriptions from private sources, which are in the shape of gifts.

R. H. Martin of Scranton was elected president, while Mr. Gunton of this city was advanced from second vice-president to first vice-president. The weather was fine and the delegation enjoyed their visit there very much including the sight seeing trip about Johnstown.

WARNS "DODGERS" ON ACCIDENT REPORTS

HARRISBURG, May 26.—The bureau of highway patrol and safety of the Department of Revnue is making a drive on "accident report dodgers." The "accident report dodger" is the motor vehicle operator who fails to report to the Department fatal accidents, personal injury accidents, or accidents in which the property damage amounts to $50 or more.

The vehicle code requires that all accidents of the above character must be reported to the Department of Revenue within 24 hours of their occurrence. A report filed with local police is not sufficient. Where two or more operators are involved in the same accident both are required to file a report. Penalty for failure to do so is a fine of $10 and cost of prosecution, or not more than five days in jail. Such negligence will result in suspension of the operator's driving license.

PRESIDENT PRESSES OWN IDEAS FOR CONVENTION

Hoover Fails To Take Big Chiefs Into Confidence

Republican Senators And Representatives Are Wondering What Hoover Will Do

CONVENTION TIME IS DRAWING NEAR

Hoover Shopping Around For New Chairman Of Republican National Committee

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 26.—President Hoover is proceeding with the business of arranging his renomination at Chicago next month with a minimum of advice from the Republican bigwigs in congress, those professional politicians were beginning to realize today.

All-important convention and campaign posts are being filled and vital decisions regarding the platform are being reached without the counsel of senators and congressmen who have come to look upon themselves as indispensable party wheelhorses. These veteran members of congress have been learning through the newspapers during the past few days of small and select White House political conferences, to which their customary bids were not forthcoming, and they are wondering when, if ever, they are to be taken into the presidential confidence.

Looks For Chairman.

For instance:

Mr. Hoover has been shopping around for some time for a new chairman of the Republican national committee to succeed Senator Simeon Fess of Ohio. Reactions have been sought—but not in congress—on several names. Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, the president's pre-convention manager, at one time was urged to take the post but since has begged off. Interests in New York and elsewhere were sounded out on the availability of Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, but that "trail balloon" was pulled in. Finally, William M. Butler of Massachusetts, who handled Calvin Coolidge's campaign in 1924, was offered the chairmanship, but seemingly has refused in the past 48 hours. Now, it is learned, the White House is holding Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley in reserve to take over the reins if agreement can be reached on no other. Hurley does not want to relinquish his choice cabinet post but will sacrifice himself to service of the cause if absolutely necessary.

Reed Mentioned.

Today the senatorial greybeards were wondering who would be chosen chairman of the resolutions committee at Chicago. This committee will have to assemble the completed platform—containing the moot prohibition plank—for submission to the convention. In the past, a member of the upper house almost invariably has presided over the drafting. So far, senatorial leaders have not been consulted about filling the post and none of their number has been offered it. The name of Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania has been mentioned in the newspapers, but he has been leading the demand that congress remain in session during the conventions and finish up its task of balancing the budget and enacting tax and relief legislation.

Gather Old Base Ball Players For Charity Game Here

"Kid" Foltz's Old Team To Come To Aid Of Former Manager

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—Just to show that he is not forgotten and that he still is a popular figure of discussion, Clifford "Kid" Foltz's former aggregation of baseball stars have gathered again to put on the cleats in an effort to aid their former manager regain the use of his feet.

Foltz received a serious leg injury in an automobile accident some time ago and was laid up in a Pittsburgh hospital for nearly three years. He came back to his home town last year, being supported by crutches for a while then a cane. His leg took a turn for the worse and he had to leave for Florida where it was hoped that nature would find a cure for the young man. Before long an operation on the leg was necessary to prevent tuberculosis of the bone. The operation was performed and he is reported to be resting comfortably.

The purpose for the gathering of this team is to put on a charity game in which it is hoped that enough money will be realized to pay for Foltz's operation. Some of the stars to be seen in uniform again are Bob Bracken, catcher; Pat Boyle and Joe Wardman, pitchers; Chief Parillo, Horse Johnson, Joe Smith, Paul McConahy, Harry Moss, Fred Sanders, Alex Black, Dewey Cunningham, Frank Fitzgerald, Merritt Book, Norman Pack, Bugs Adams and George MacMurdo.

The charity game is scheduled to take place on June 1 at Lincoln field and will probably be against Bob Robertson's Wampum nine or the present team in the Beaver county league.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Ellwood School Board In Session

Take Action On Various Measures At Meeting Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26—Ellwood City school directors met last night in special session.

Secretary Hancher stated that the school district was given credit for $463 which had been overpaid by the old board to the Public School Retirement Board. A complete settlement will be made with the retirement board when the school district sends them a check for $12,606 which will clean up the difficulty had with the state department at Harrisburg over the teacher's retirement fund.

L. L. Gelbach was elected treasurer to succeed C. W. Jackson. The board elects a new one every year.

Three teachers who previously did not receive enough votes to be elected to the staff were given the necessary amount last night. The teachers were Abigail Creswell, Martha Mayne and Mary Shields.

It was announced that the Hartman and Northside teachers have agreed to donate 2 per cent of their salaries to the Community Chest fund.

The payroll for the school employees was also approved.

The board sanctioned Ralph Strouse to participate in the state track meet at Altoona on Saturday afternoon. The athletic field was donated for a charity baseball game to take place next Wednesday evening.

A resolution was passed that all townships must make a satisfactory settlement of tuition accounts before their pupils are admitted to the local high school next year.

The board voted to give Todd Lloyd $100 additional to his salary for coaching track and basketball the past two seasons. Lloyd took the coaching reins in these two fields after the resignation of R. V. Ingle and the above amount was not stated in his contract.

One janitor in the Lincoln school will be disposed of beginning June 1.

Secretary Hancher gave a report of his trip to Harrisburg where he talked with Dr. Baisch of the retirement board with whom he corrected several accounts. A satisfactory arrangement has been made between the state department and the school district. Mr. Hancher made arrangements at this time for an advancement of the state appropriation in case of an emergency.

Prof. Vaughn DeLong took the necessary oath of office as superintendent of the local schools and his commission will be forwarded in a few days. He will take office on July 1.

Fire Of Incendiary Origin Takes Place Early This Morning

Fire Chief Making Investigation Into Situation Across Borough Line

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26—A fire of supposed incendiary origin took place in North Sewickley Township at 1:20 this morning, just across the borough line.

Smoke was seen coming out of a window of an unoccupied home on the West Side of Frisco bridge. The local fire department was informed of the situation and although the fire was out of the borough the firemen responded and soon had it under control.

Fortunately there was a fire plug within a few feet of the borough line. With the aid of water and chemical the fire was put out. There was no serious damage to the home which is owned by A. L. Bleachem.

The fire was started in an empty closet and before the arrival of the fire department, the home was filled with smoke which caused most of the damage. The second floor and the attic was practically a cloud of smoke. The damage was placed by fire chief H. T. Plante at $300.

A state investigation is expected into the matter, the fire chief stated, this morning.

Chest Drive Is Above $9000 Mark After Third Day

Drive Now Is Progressing Faster; Expect Campaign To Go Over Top

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—Fears that the annual community chest drive in Ellwood City would have to be extended are gradually being dispelled. The third day of the drive was highly satisfactory to chest officials.

When final reports for the day were in the sum was over the $9000 mark, which is over one-third of the quota of $23,930. eYsterday's efforts brought in over $4000, just $1000 short of the total of the previous two days.

Reports from industries are still coming in. The committee has just started on the merchants' division and by this evening the present sum should take quite a jump forward.

The showing Wednesday indicates that the drive will go over the top in the designated time and thus uphold the tradition of the community.

Reduce School Tax Rate 8 Mills

School Board Sets Millage For Ensuing Year At Meeting Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 26.—School board members assembled in their rooms of the Lincoln high school last night and authorized a reduction of eight mills in the school tax for the coming year. The meeting was especially called to adopt the budget which went through without much change.

A committee composed of Secretary Blaine Hancher as chairman, Henry Cresswell, and J. W. Mayne had been working on the budget for quite a while and with a few practical suggestions from board members, were responsible for the budget and its passage.

There was a slight opposition to this cut by Dr. Helling who believed that it was too much. He wanted the rate to be a little higher so that a reserve fund may grow in a few years. It was pointed out that it would be difficult to maintain a reserve fund if present conditions keep up.

The budget set the per-capita rate at $4 and the property assessment at 20 mills which is a total reduction of eight mills over last year and a 15 mill slice since 1930.

Grimes Hurls Shutout Game

Burleigh Grimes Holds Former Cardinal Mates Runless And Wins 3 To 0

SPOHRER-STRIPP STAGE FIST FIGHT

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 26.—It begins to look as though Burleigh Grimes, veteran spitball hurler of the Chicago Cubs, was spoofing the judge the other day when he testified in a court case that he was "nearing the end of his pitching career."

The old master looked as good as ever yesterday in applying a neat coat of whitewash to his former mates, the champion St. Louis Cardinals, by a score of 3 to 0. It was the second shutout victory for the Cubs this season and broke their four-game losing streak.

Rookie Wins

The Cubs failed to gain on the league-leading Braves, who trimmed the Dodgers, 4 to 2 with the aid of three Brooklyn errors. Bobby Brown, 20-year-old Back Bay prodigy, held the Dodgers to four hits and registered his second victory of the season over Dazzy Vance, old enough to be his father.

Al Spohrer, Boston catcher, got three blows at the plate and a couple extra ones during an impromptu fist fight with Joe Stripp, Brooklyn third baseman.

Paul (Big Poison) Waner kept up his batting streak by lacing four hits as the Pirates swamped Cincinnati, 9 to 4. Pittsburgh moved into sixth place, passing Brooklyn.

The Giants nicked three Philadelphia pitchers for seventeen hits and won 12 to 8 although the Phils pasted Fred Fitzsimmons for twelve blows. Bill Terry collected his tenth homer and two other hits, driving in four runs.

No games were played in the American league.

County Church Baseball Card

Two games will be played Friday in the Lawrence County Church baseball league as follows: St. Monicas at Oak Grove; Chewton at Calvary. There is a lot of interest in the league this year. Several good games have been played.

Burgoo King To Race Saturday

Winner Of Derby And Preakness Will Not Be Favorite To Win Third Race

STEPENFETCHIT IS FAVORITE

By FRANK G. MENKE
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 26.—It's weird, this situation involving Burgoo King.

On May 7th he won the Kentucky Derby, off by himself, and whipped a band of 19.

A week later he strutted to the front in the Preakness.

He has won over $100,000 for his owner, E. R. Bradley.

Yet on Saturday, running in the Withersmile at Belmont, he will be asked to prove that he is a horse of distinction.

Not Favored

He meets horses that he previously has beaten yet there will be a huge play by the public against Burgoo King.

Stepenfetchit will be backed heavily to ship the colt that whipped him in the derby.

The derby was not, as horsemen see it, truly won.

Stepenfetchit was knocked sideways, backwards, into the rail, pocketed and had plenty of things happen to him before he became clear for the stretch run. Burgoo King was free of trouble throughout most of the trip and the smart folks of turfdom figure that with an even break in luck on Saturday Stepenfetchit will take the King's measure.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Charles Benson, Thiel college grid and floor coach has signed a one year contract as director of athletics and physical education at Pompton Lakes, High, N. J.

Paul Waner climbed into the .400 hitters class, yesterday and now owns an average of .408. He got four hits in five times at bat in the Pirates-Red, National loop game Wednesday.

Harry Cox, 28, Indianapolis, mechanic, was killed at the Indianapolis Speedway yesterday when the car in which he was riding lost a wheel on the first turn.

Mickey Walker doesn't care how big they are judging from what he has been doing in the ring. He is now matched to fight Paulino Uzcudun in a 10 round bout at New York tonight.

After the initial inning Brent could not hit when safe blows meant runs. Sank McCullough came thru with a triple and two singles. Byak and Fahey each got two hits and Johnny Hill featured when he hit a homer, driving Fruitt home.

Byak's one-handed catch of Robinson's long fly was one of the features of the game.

Mickey Walker Is Favored To Win

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Mickey Walker ruled a 7 to 5 choice today to defeat Paulino Uzcudun in their ten-round fight tonight at Madison Square Garden.

There is little or no betting on a knockout as the Basque woodchopper, while often defeated has never been flattened.

The former middleweight champion will have to keep away plenty on account of weight. He may not weigh more than 170 pounds, while Paulino will scale about 195 pounds. The Basque also has an advantage in reach.

In New York they say a detective can't do his work when everybody discovers who he is, but that doesn't seem to be true of criminals.

Hint At Romance For Jack Dempsey And Lina Basquette

Coast Circles Buzzing With Gossip As Jack Steals Girl From Teddy Hayes

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—The movie and fistic world speculated today over whether a romance had developed between Jack Dempsey, former king of the heavyweights, and Lina Basquette, dark eyed screen actress.

"Jack Dempsey stole my girl," thundered Teddy Hayes, Jack's former trainer and ex-pal, who explained the incident occurred recently at a banquet at Dempsey's hotel here.

Dempsey, in San Francisco, indignantly denied Hayes' charge.

"I wouldn't take anything from Hayes, least of all a girl," Dempsey said. "Lina's a mighty nice girl, but I've just hopped out of one marriage and I'm through with romance."

Hayes is an ally of Jack Kearns, Dempsey's former manager.

"Jack made a big play for Lina at the banquet, and I haven't seen her since," Hayes said.

"All I can do is to take it on the chin. But I still think she's the sweetest girl in the world.

"Why did he have to pick her when there are 1,000,000 other girls who think he's a big shot?"

DIAMOND DUST

Boro took advantage of every break when they played Elder A. C. and while they only got two hits gave Elder a fight before Elder won their tenth straight victory. Elder got 13 hits while Boro got only two. The score was 10 to 9.

Gonda crashed out a homer when he found Butler's range and in a game between the North Hill Satellites and the Lehigh A. C. won by the latter 19 to 5. Vitto, L. and B. Ostrosky clouted hits which were good for home runs.

While these four ply swatters were busy, so was Blaine of Croton M. E. in a game against Trinity. He hit the pill for the marathon grind around the bags. Rubies hit a double. Benninghoff and Eckert got three hits each. Croton blanked Trinity 17 to 0.

It would be a splendid idea for the scorers of the various teams to report whether the score turned in is for a baseball or mushball game. It may be true that the size of the score generally tells the story, but not always.

Independent Merchants and Williams A. C. played a close game, the former winning 9 to 8. They got by when they scored twice in the last frame. Errors had considerable to do with the downfall of the Williams, five having been committed by players.

Scarazzo had an aggregation of hitters that is not surpassed in the Lawrence county league and their bats are likely to burst up a game at any moment.

Yesterday they got to a pair of Brent pitchers for 11 hits. Sank McCullough was the hitting fiend and the spectacular was produced Johnny Hill nailed the pill for four bases.

NASHAU WINS

Nashau baseball team handed the Pump Station team a 14 to 19 setback Tuesday evening at the Pump Station field. Shew and Joe Braho were the feature hitters of the game with homers. Braho also hit a triple. The game was a free slugging affair with twenty six hits being recorded. Braho on the mound for Mashau fanned ten men.

Anyway, we have learned that the ability to wise-crack isn't proof of greatness.

TWELFTH GRADE, BESSEMER WINNER

Elimination Baseball To Be Played Next Week At Bessemer

BESSEMER, Pa., May 26.—The Intra-Mural season of Bessemer high school is over. After nine months of activity the Twelfth grade took first honors while Section 1 of the Tenth grade and the eleventh grade deadlocked for second and Section 2 of the Tenth grade finished fourth in the Class A. division.

In Class B, the classes rated as follows:

Section 2 of the Eighth grade first and then Section 3 of the Ninth grade; Section 1 of the Eighth grade, Section one of the Ninth grade, Section 2 of the Ninth Grade, Section 1 of the Seventh grade and Section 2 of the Seventh grade, last.

In Class A, the Seniors ran away with practically everything. Both boys and girls class teams won first place in volley ball and basketball, after which the boys won first place, Field day.

In Class B, the competition was much keener. Section 2 of the Eighth grade had a boys volley ball that won first place and a girls basketball team that won first place in the basketball league.

First In Field Meet

The boys of the same grade and section proceeded to take first place during Field day which put their section into first place for the year.

Attempts to expand the Intra-Mural activity to foul throwing and hand ball were unsuccessful this year. They are, however, excellent opportunities for additions to the athletic program which will be taken advantage of when the school term opens in September.

The final organized activity for the school will commence next week with an eliminating baseball tournament including the Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth grades. The results will not be included in the Intra-Mural championship ratings as the Ninth grade belongs to the Class B division.

Same Man?

Taken 13 years ago, the photo (top) of Captain Fritz Joubert Duquesne, soldier of fortune, has turned up to trouble "T. de Trafford Craven" (lower) who, British Secret Service men insist, is the same man. "Craven" is being held in New York for Great Britain, accused of being a spy, bomber and bigamist. He says "it's all a mistake."

Kidnaping will increase, we are told, because in these hard times the gangsters can't make enough profit out of prohibition, which is the cause of all crime.

Lobsters hibernate during winter in the caverns among the rocks in deep water. When the weather begins to get warm the lobsters come out in search of food.

To Grapple for Mat Title

U. S. Steel And Westinghouse Show Strength In Bear Market

AMERICAN CAN MEETS SUPPORT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 26.—Another outburst of liquidation drove stocks to new lows for the bear market today.

Consolidated Gas was the unsettling influence in the utilities, going to a new low. North American also went through its former bottom, while the whole Power and Light group showed a heavy tone. American Smelting, Cerro De Pasco and Anaconda broke to new lows.

Leaders were mixed. U. S. Steel and Westinghouse showed a firm tone while American Can continued to meet support.

General Motors equalled its old low and American Telephone went through fractionally. General Electric ran into heavy selling and also made a new low.

Cotton broke sharply and Wheat was reactionary. Bonds continued their downward course.

Utility Company Estimate Upheld At Hearing Today

Harry J. Crawford, Union Light And Heat Official Testifies At Hearing

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 26.—Another phase of the utility rate reduction fight of four Western Pennsylvania boroughs was reached before the Public Service Commission today when witnesses for the Union Heat & Light company bolstered the concern's contention that its $800,000 reproduction cost was an accurate estimate.

The borough of Grove City, Volant, Stoneboro and Sandy Lake contend that the company valuation is vastly in excess of its actual reproduction cost which, they argue, is about $373,000.

Harry J. Crawford, vice-president of the concern, justified the reproduction cost estimate of the utility at today's hearing with the assertion that gas wells, lease holds and general equipment of the concern are "the best available."

Wells Are Valuable

He pointed out that wrought iron pipe, used by the concern, and the 100-foot sand from which the gas is derived in the Mercer county area make the wells exceedingly valuable. He added:

"Wrough Iron has the best wearing quality, property containing wrought iron pipe is worth approximately 25 per cent more than property equipped with steel pipe.

General market value of the company's gas lands and lease holds, excluding equipment, was estimated at $160,000 by B. S. Webber, Columbus, O., a former oil and gas operator in the Oil City region, who took the witness stand for the respondent concern.

Long Experience

Webber based his estimate on 30 years experience in the sale of oil and gas fields and a recent inspection of the Mercer county area. The objection of M. B. Klinesmith, counsel for the boroughs of Grove City, Volant, Stoneboro and Sandy Lake, that Webber was not qualified to make an estimate because he had not sold any wells in Mercer county was overruled by Examiner S. Ray Shelby.

"The 100-foot sand in this territory is very long life," Webber testified "Moreover, the number of dry holes are few and for these reasons thhe property could be sold readily on the market at the $160,000 figure."

Benjamin S. Copper, an employe of the Columbia Gas and Electric Company, placed the average cost of the Union Heat & Light Company at 75 cents a rod. Under cross-examination, however, he admitted never purchasing any rights of way in that particular field.

Thomas on Stand

Clyde Thomas of Grove City was placed upon the stand by the respondent in an attempt to show that N. Husselman, consulting engineer for the boroughs, made a hasty and incomplete examination of the pipe lines and other equipment prior to placing the reproduction cost of the concern at $373,000.

Thomas told of digging holes for Husselman along pipe lines in New Wilmington, Grove City, the vicinity of New Castle and other places.

"Several times rust was removed from the pipes by picks," Thomas stated, "but I do not know for what purpose. At intervals I dug down at the side of the pipe before Husselman made his examination. When the pipe appeared to be in good condition he would only measure it and continue."

National Guard Detachment Surprises Rebels While They Are Asleep In Camp

(International News Service)

COLON, Panama, May 26.—More than fifty Nicaraguan Rebels were killed by soldiers of the National Guard in Jinotega Providence today, according to reports from Bluefields.

The National Guard detachment surprised the Rebels while they were asleep in camp. No casualties were reported among the guardsmen, who captured valuable stores of munitions and foodstuffs.

To Honor War Dead at Sea

Mrs. Charles Augustine Robinson, national flag lady of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is shown as she presented an anchor made entirely of Buddy Poppies to Commodore Randall, of the S. S. Leviathan at New York. The anchor is a tribute from the V. F. W. to those who lost their lives at sea during the World War. It will be cast into the waves on Memorial Day from the deck of the liner as a feature of the solemn mid-ocean memorial services.

Fell from Town to Town

If Humpty Dumpty deserved to win fame by his fall off a little wall, then six-year-old Mary Ellen Charles, of Union City, N. J., is also entitled to a niche among the immortals. Mary Ellen is shown smiling bravely as her mother dresses her bruises after the little girl had fallen all over the State of New Jersey. The diagram at left shows the course of her fall. Union City is at the top of the hill and 150 feet below is the town of Weehawken, where Mary Ellen's long drop ended.

Miss Harriet Segall and Mrs. Ludovic Bremner are the pretty human standards for this set-up over which Frank O'Bryan is vaulting at the Los Angeles Olympic Stadium. Rosmary Weaver is the beauteous damsel seated at the bottom of the Olympiad banner. The stunt is a part of the program which society girls of the Olympic Hospitality Corps are rehearsing for the 1932 games.

Observations In 7th Ward

Here is the sign seen on the door of a private garage in seventh ward: "No parkin in frunt of this grarg." Although the spelling is a little unusual, a person does get the idea.

Seeral pretty good reasons are diverting minds of Lawrence and Mahoning school students from their studies today. They are—circus, assembly programs, Memorial Day and June 3rd.

INTEREST IN BRIDGE

Work being done on the construction of the new bridge across the Mahoning river at Willow Grove has attracted the interest of a large number of people from seventh ward and other parts of the city. Conference And Day Outing Will Take Place Wednesday, June 15

Members of the New Castle Young Women's Christian Association will have an all day outing on Wednesday, June 15, at Camp East Brook, the "Y" camp for girls. The outing will be partly for conference and partly for observance of the young campers in their activities.

Conference sessions will start at 10:00 a. m. and the following topics will be discussed:

What are the needs of New Castle women and girls which the Y. W. C. A. should be working on?

How shall we so interpret the Y. W. C. A. that the community will see its necessity?

What should the Y. W. C. A. be doing about World Peace?

What should the Y. W. C. A. be doing about unemployed girls?

These are some of the topics local Association members voted to ask the National Y. W. C. A. convention to discuss. The membership committee believes they will therefore be of interest locally.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Just a little more improving and that spot on East Washington street between Oak and Chestnut will be a park. First they knocked out those irregular banks, then they landscaped the strip back to the bill boards and now they have added benches around the trees.

Only shows what a few shovels and a little elbow lubricant will do on a spot that looked like something the cat had been playing with.

This is one day in the year when anybody is entitled to make a yokel of himself. When the big top goes up, and the air is filled with the smell of sawdust, and the spielers get under way, you can't be blamed if you revert to type. Circuses do that to most anybody.

Saw what is probably the largest azelia in the county Wednesday afternoon. It can be found on the place of Dr. John Earley back of Court street. It might almost pass for a small peach tree in size, but is covered with blooms that leave no doubt as to its family.

For some reason azelias are just beginning to come into their own. For years folks seemed not to care for them. In the past few years they have picked up in popularity and now they are taking their proper place. Nothing more exotic gros in the garden, unless it be some of this long spurred columbine that is in bloom just now.

One of the boys in the office just woke up to the fact that not only Memorial Day but the Fourth of July comes on Monday this year. A chance to hide away for two full days where nobody but a catbird breaks the quiet. And for his information, Labor Day will also come on Monday this year.

Memorial Day means another parade over around the Legion Home. And the average soldier isn't a bit keen about parading. Only for the reason that it is a mark of respect to the fellows who are not here will your average soldier parade at all. After a year or two of squads east and west he is usually full up on parades for the rest of his natural life.

The police you saw on the street Wednesday were Ellwood City coppers and it's worth mentioning that they surely have natty uniforms. It was also a mighty neighborly thing for them to do, to come over and patrol the streets of New Castle yesterday.

GEORGE JUNIOR BOYS PLANT LAND

GROVE CITY, May 26.—The George Junior Republic citizens report the planting of 28 acres of oats, 24 of corn and 4 of Potatoes. The crops of the 200 acres at the republic must support its 58 citizens. They are being put in by the male citizens of the Republic which is based on the principle of correction of incorrigibles through self government.

The garden at the state grounds will be on the same usual gigantic proportions which makes possible the sale each year of many hundred bushels of vegetables.

SALESMAN KILLED AVOIDING CATTLE

ALTOONA, Pa., May 26.—To avoid striking cows, Harry Shay, 50, a Philipsburg salesman, turned his automobile off the highway and was injured fatally a mile west of Morrisdale last night. His wife and year old child were hurt and are in the Philipsburg hospital.
